Dr. Zandra D'Hue announce that she has accepted a Clinical Assistant Professor of Pathology position with the Indiana University School of Medicine with Clarian Arnett Clinic in Lafayette, IN. The group gave her an enthusiastic applause on her accomplishment.

Dr. Moore reminded the membership that there was 2 months left in their current membership dues before it was time to renew for the 2011 year in January.

Dr. Moye updated everyone on the December UNCF Masked Ball at the Downtown Marriott on December 4, 2010. She wanted to remind everyone that she is still accepting contributions to the UNCF that will be presented to the UNCF on behalf of the AMS membership. She encouraged those who have not yet contributed, but were intending to do so to follow through on their pledge or check as soon as possible. She can be reached at moyemd@prodigy.net.

Dr. Obeime updated the membership on her Global trips and announced that she will be going to Quito, Ecuador over the holiday period. She will be taking a group of students from Davidson University. It will involve seeing patients at a clinic. Given the tremendous amount of work for one physician, she made an appeal to have two AMS physicians accompany her. Rene Roberts, MSIV, volunteered as did Dr. Akingba.

Dr. Rausch volunteered to pay up to $1,500 of the cost for the medical student from his departmental funds at the IUSM Office of Diversity. Additionally, Dr. Obeime mentioned that her daughter, Jeme, has recently accepted an offer to attend Duke University on a full-ride scholarship.

She also brought in the Fall 2010 issue of the Spirit of Women Health is Action magazine, where she was featured on the cover. This is a national publication and the only magazine in America presented for the whole health of women and their families by American hospitals and their physicians.
